

NORTHERN LIGHT.

THROWN UPON THE DISASTER OF THE PROTEUS.

The Cruise of the Ill-Fated Relief Ship, Its Disaster and the Causes thereof—Washington's Failure to Receive the Supplemental Instructions—A Talk with the Explorer.

NEW YORK, October 1.—Several of the newspapers publish interviews with Lieutenant Garlington and other members of the Greely relief party, who have just arrived from St. Johns. They say the supplemental instructions concerning which much has been published as having been calculated to contribute to the safety of Greely's party, as well as that on board the Proteus, were never received by Lieutenant Garlington and he was sailing under the original orders received before he left.

The Yantic was the reserve ship of the Greely relief expedition, and picked up the members of the expedition in Melville bay after the Proteus, the relief ship which bore them and their supplies, was crushed in the ice. There were not many outward evidences of the Yantic's experience in the ice, but her bow plates were not as secure as they were when she started on her voyage. The crew was in good health and spirits, and only one man short. That one man was Henry Wilson, the chief gunner's mate, who died of scurvy, a complication of scurvy and pneumonia, on the 23rd of September. The relief party consisted of the commander, Lieutenant E. A. Garlington, Seventh Cavalry; Lieutenant J. C. Cowell, United States Navy; Dr. J. S. Harrison, surgeon; Sergeant John Kenney, Seventh Cavalry; Corporal Frank Elwell, company E, Third Infantry; F. Moritz, company A, Seventeenth Infantry; Private John I. Murphy, company E, Eleventh Infantry; Private Richard Rogers, company H, Third Infantry; Private W. H. Lamar, signal corps, United States army; Private F. W. Ellis, signal corps, United States army, and the Newfoundland dog, Rover. Mr. Harrison described the wreck of the Proteus. The pack began about 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, July 23, off Cape Sabine. There was a flow on either side of the Proteus a mile long, half a mile wide, and six feet thick. They nipped the Proteus at 4:30 and began to make their way through the ice. The pack was not so much as the work of the pack went on. The Proteus was not raised up by the ice as generally the case, but was held on a level as though in a vise, while the ice piled up as high as her decks around her. The men saw she was doomed, and began throwing out stores. The tide changed and the floes began moving away. The ship's sides were then exposed, and she was as useless as a tub, and when the ice moved away she sank like a plummet. The water was deep and not a trace of her was left. The expedition had almost reached open water when the ship was caught, and immediately after she sank the ice cleared away leaving open sailing. The icebergs were troublesome things. Seven-eighths were under water and one above. They would melt away on top and turn over, and when they were liable, if near the ship, to strike it, or the waves might wash the ship around, as there was no good anchorage. The supplies of the expedition were very good. They were sufficient for the fifteen months, and were one-third larger than the ordinary allotment. Dr. Harrison said the reason supplies were left at Littleton Island was because the expedition was ordered to go on, and he had no supplementary orders to the contrary.

WHAT THE OFFICERS SAY.
Lieutenant Gibson, the executive officer of the Yantic, said that as that vessel was going into Disco bay an iceberg began to turn over at the narrow mouth of the bay. The Yantic put on all steam to get out of the way, but the iceberg grounded, and did not move. When asked about Lieutenant Greely's chances, Lieutenant Gibson said that in the first place, Greely had no dogs. A distemper broke out among them and most of them died before he got to Lady Franklin bay. He had a very poor chance of outliving the winter. Very little success attended expeditions in the fall. If he wintered at Lady Franklin bay, where he had a comfortable house and saw his gun, his chances would be good. The Proteus' crew were in good health.

Lieutenant Garlington, after telling the story of the loss of the vessel, was asked about the rumored bad behavior of the crew of the Proteus.
"I do not care to say much about that matter," he was answered, "until I can make my report, as it is a matter of some importance."
"But you can certainly say whether the reports are true?"
"Yes, they are. The crew behaved very badly."
"Did they not do their duty on the return?"
"They were of little or no service to us. In some smaller matters their assistance was obtained. But I can say they acted very badly—like pirates, in fact."
"You could not command obedience from them?"
"Our party was too small for that. They were the larger party."
"But did you not sail in company?"
"Yes, we were in company; but they had their own boats and went their own course."
"It has been said that in some respects you have not fully carried out your supplemental orders?"
"I do not exactly understand what you mean by 'supplemental orders.'"
"It is said that you were served with supplemental orders before sailing, and that they included a stoppage at Littleton Island?"
"I must not talk about my orders," said the lieutenant, smiling, "but I will say that I never saw any supplemental orders. Before leaving Washington I received a memorandum which had been furnished the naval authorities containing a copy of instructions the signal service asked to be given to the Yantic. These are all of the 'supplemental orders' that I saw."

"Did you men behave well?"
"The men behaved most admirably through the whole trip."
"Do you consider that up to the time of the loss of the ship you had fully carried out the programme you had determined upon?"
"Yes, and the programme Lieutenant Greely had determined upon himself."
"And what do you consider Lieutenant Greely's position to be now?"
"Of course no one can tell that. Greely, if he followed the original plan that he made himself, left Discovery harbor as soon as he became satisfied that a vessel could not reach him this fall. That would be probably the first and last of September. He would then make the best of his way south, and, sledging in that region in the fall of the year is next to impossible. In case he cannot get down he will, if possible, go back."

DOUGLASS'S EXTREME VIEWS.
The Recent Colored Convention Not in Sympathy With Him.
WASHINGTON, October 1.—Mr. Jesse Law, son of New Jersey, who took part in the convention of colored men at Louisville, and who was here to-day on his way home, says that some misunderstanding has arisen about the action of the convention. The address of Mr. Frederick Douglass, which was given for a committee, was not adopted as the sense of the convention. A long discussion in the committee resulted in a vote adverse to its adoption, upon the ground that it contained good many opinions, the declaration of which was not called for by a body organized for the general advancement of the colored race rather than for any political purpose. The committee, which included amongst its twenty-four members W. A. Pledger of Georgia, George W. Williams of Ohio, the colored historian, and Judge Dumont of Louisiana, finally decided to lay aside Mr. Douglass's speech as a text, and entirely new resolutions, framed by Mr. Williams, were adopted and submitted to the convention. It appears that the desire on the part of some of Mr. Douglass's friends to give a political turn to the proceedings excited deep feeling in the convention, and the majority being opposed to the extreme views uttered by Mr. Douglass, his address was edited carefully after delivery, and, as published by the convention, is modified in form.

THE FEDERAL CAPITAL.

North Carolina's Debt—The Debt Statement for September.
WASHINGTON, October 1.—The work of removing the remains of 107 North Carolina Confederate soldiers from Arlington cemetery to North Carolina, which has been undertaken by the Women's Memorial association of North Carolina, will be begun to-morrow under the direction of Mrs. C. W. Harris, who represents the association in this city. It is expected that the remains will be ready for removal by the 15th of October. They will be taken to Baltimore, thence by way of Norfolk and Weldon, N. C., to Raleigh. There they lie in state in the state house, and will be finally interred with appropriate ceremonies.

THE DEBT STATEMENT.
The debt statement issued to-day shows the decrease of the public debt during the month of September to be $14,707,229. The decrease of the debt since June 30, 1883, $29,279,671.93. Cash in the treasury, $35,450,670.85. Gold certificates outstanding, $24,922,40. Silver certificates outstanding, $94,490,241. Certificates of deposit, $11,945,000. Refunding certificates, $32,950. Legal tenders, $345,081,06. Fractional currency, $2,992,466.31. Cash available October 1, $158,546,006.45.

THE YELLOW FEVER.

Its Introduction Fearred in San Francisco—The Mortality in Northwest Mexico.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 1.—Second Officer Graham of the steamer Newbern, from Guaymas, died of yellow fever yesterday after reaching the harbor. The captain stated that the disease developed itself after the vessel left Guaymas. Deaths were at first expressed as cholera, but later it was found to be yellow fever. He begged the king to give France a fresh proof of his sympathy by accepting an invitation to a banquet at the palace of Elisee this evening, to be attended by all the cabinet members of the French government, and as a proof of his friendship, he would accept the invitation. The king went to the palace of Elisee at 7 o'clock in the evening.

RUMORS IN PARIS.
PARIS, October 1.—Alarming reports prevail that the Spanish cabinet will demand that the French government shall make a public apology for the insults offered to King Alfonso, and that the German government will make a diplomatic remonstrance at the king's departure, to which the king has subjected. The cabinet is divided in opinion as to whether to accept the king's invitation to the banquet, and the king has decided to accept it.

THE KING'S DEPARTURE.
King Alfonso and suite left this city this morning on their return to Spain. There was a demonstration by the people on the departure. The Paris correspondent of the Times says King Alfonso is perfectly satisfied of the good faith of Prime Minister Ferry, as representing the French government. The king does not intend for a moment to accept an invitation to the banquet at the palace of Elisee, which was excited by the false statements of anarchist agitators, represents the French nation. In abridging his stay in Paris by this half the time, the king desires to diminish the difficulties that have arisen from his visit. The Marquis De Lono de Arroyo, Spanish minister of foreign affairs, and the Spanish government entirely agreed with the position of the king to leave Paris. King Alfonso was quite unaware of his appointment to the concolony of the urban regiment until he received it and his uniform simultaneously. The Emperor William inquired the appointment as an agreeable surprise. He would not lend himself to anything that would be likely to excite prejudice against one for whom he had taken an exceptional liking. Prince Bismarck has been nothing to do with the appointment. King Alfonso and the duke of Connaught exchanged visits on Sunday. President Greely went to the depot Saturday to greet King Alfonso reluctantly, but in his manner appeared cold his words were cordial. The Madrid correspondent of the Times says the hostile reception accorded to King Alfonso in Paris, had considerably increased his prestige at home. His personal courage and discretion, his dignified bearing during his progress through the streets of Paris, and his visit to President Greely's residence, at the Elisee without an escort, are subjects of general eulogium and of admiration by Spaniards.

REACHING THE FRONTIER.
King Alfonso will reach the Spanish frontier at midnight. General Pita, secretary of President Greely, and the duke of Fernan Nunez, Spanish ambassador to France, escorted the king to the railway station. The king made an excellent impression upon the guests at the banquet at the Elisee. President Greely, in referring thereto, said he never expected to meet so much good sense and dignity and coolness in so young a sovereign.

EMIGRATION IN SPAIN.
MADRID, October 1.—The citizens here are highly incensed over the insults offered to King Alfonso in Paris. Bands of people paraded the streets yesterday evening, insulting the king to the railway station. The French embassy, and openly rebuffed the French embassy. The police, however, prevented any violence from being perpetrated.

SENOR MOREL, at a meeting of the democratic club, declared that the insults offered to the king affected the whole Spanish nation, which he declared would stand by the king. His utterances were received with loud cheering. Marshal Serrans has telegraphed to Senor Condras Decastillo that the cause of the king was here to-day on his way home, says that some misunderstanding has arisen about the action of the convention. The address of Mr. Frederick Douglass, which was given for a committee, was not adopted as the sense of the convention. A long discussion in the committee resulted in a vote adverse to its adoption, upon the ground that it contained good many opinions, the declaration of which was not called for by a body organized for the general advancement of the colored race rather than for any political purpose. The committee, which included amongst its twenty-four members W. A. Pledger of Georgia, George W. Williams of Ohio, the colored historian, and Judge Dumont of Louisiana, finally decided to lay aside Mr. Douglass's speech as a text, and entirely new resolutions, framed by Mr. Williams, were adopted and submitted to the convention. It appears that the desire on the part of some of Mr. Douglass's friends to give a political turn to the proceedings excited deep feeling in the convention, and the majority being opposed to the extreme views uttered by Mr. Douglass, his address was edited carefully after delivery, and, as published by the convention, is modified in form.

THE DEBT STATEMENT.
The debt statement issued to-day shows the decrease of the public debt during the month of September to be $14,707,229. The decrease of the debt since June 30, 1883, $29,279,671.93. Cash in the treasury, $35,450,670.85. Gold certificates outstanding, $24,922,40. Silver certificates outstanding, $94,490,241. Certificates of deposit, $11,945,000. Refunding certificates, $32,950. Legal tenders, $345,081,06. Fractional currency, $2,992,466.31. Cash available October 1, $158,546,006.45.

THE YELLOW FEVER.
Its Introduction Fearred in San Francisco—The Mortality in Northwest Mexico.
SAN FRANCISCO, October 1.—Second Officer Graham of the steamer Newbern, from Guaymas, died of yellow fever yesterday after reaching the harbor. The captain stated that the disease developed itself after the vessel left Guaymas. Deaths were at first expressed as cholera, but later it was found to be yellow fever. He begged the king to give France a fresh proof of his sympathy by accepting an invitation to a banquet at the palace of Elisee this evening, to be attended by all the cabinet members of the French government, and as a proof of his friendship, he would accept the invitation. The king went to the palace of Elisee at 7 o'clock in the evening.

RUMORS IN PARIS.
PARIS, October 1.—Alarming reports prevail that the Spanish cabinet will demand that the French government shall make a public apology for the insults offered to King Alfonso, and that the German government will make a diplomatic remonstrance at the king's departure, to which the king has subjected. The cabinet is divided in opinion as to whether to accept the king's invitation to the banquet, and the king has decided to accept it.

THE KING'S DEPARTURE.
King Alfonso and suite left this city this morning on their return to Spain. There was a demonstration by the people on the departure. The Paris correspondent of the Times says King Alfonso is perfectly satisfied of the good faith of Prime Minister Ferry, as representing the French government. The king does not intend for a moment to accept an invitation to the banquet at the palace of Elisee, which was excited by the false statements of anarchist agitators, represents the French nation. In abridging his stay in Paris by this half the time, the king desires to diminish the difficulties that have arisen from his visit. The Marquis De Lono de Arroyo, Spanish minister of foreign affairs, and the Spanish government entirely agreed with the position of the king to leave Paris. King Alfonso was quite unaware of his appointment to the concolony of the urban regiment until he received it and his uniform simultaneously. The Emperor William inquired the appointment as an agreeable surprise. He would not lend himself to anything that would be likely to excite prejudice against one for whom he had taken an exceptional liking. Prince Bismarck has been nothing to do with the appointment. King Alfonso and the duke of Connaught exchanged visits on Sunday. President Greely went to the depot Saturday to greet King Alfonso reluctantly, but in his manner appeared cold his words were cordial. The Madrid correspondent of the Times says the hostile reception accorded to King Alfonso in Paris, had considerably increased his prestige at home. His personal courage and discretion, his dignified bearing during his progress through the streets of Paris, and his visit to President Greely's residence, at the Elisee without an escort, are subjects of general eulogium and of admiration by Spaniards.

REACHING THE FRONTIER.
King Alfonso will reach the Spanish frontier at midnight. General Pita, secretary of President Greely, and the duke of Fernan Nunez, Spanish ambassador to France, escorted the king to the railway station. The king made an excellent impression upon the guests at the banquet at the Elisee. President Greely, in referring thereto, said he never expected to meet so much good sense and dignity and coolness in so young a sovereign.

EMIGRATION IN SPAIN.
MADRID, October 1.—The citizens here are highly incensed over the insults offered to King Alfonso in Paris. Bands of people paraded the streets yesterday evening, insulting the king to the railway station. The French embassy, and openly rebuffed the French embassy. The police, however, prevented any violence from being perpetrated.

SENOR MOREL, at a meeting of the democratic club, declared that the insults offered to the king affected the whole Spanish nation, which he declared would stand by the king. His utterances were received with loud cheering. Marshal Serrans has telegraphed to Senor Condras Decastillo that the cause of the king was here to-day on his way home, says that some misunderstanding has arisen about the action of the convention. The address of Mr. Frederick Douglass, which was given for a committee, was not adopted as the sense of the convention. A long discussion in the committee resulted in a vote adverse to its adoption, upon the ground that it contained good many opinions, the declaration of which was not called for by a body organized for the general advancement of the colored race rather than for any political purpose. The committee, which included amongst its twenty-four members W. A. Pledger of Georgia, George W. Williams of Ohio, the colored historian, and Judge Dumont of Louisiana, finally decided to lay aside Mr. Douglass's speech as a text, and entirely new resolutions, framed by Mr. Williams, were adopted and submitted to the convention. It appears that the desire on the part of some of Mr. Douglass's friends to give a political turn to the proceedings excited deep feeling in the convention, and the majority being opposed to the extreme views uttered by Mr. Douglass, his address was edited carefully after delivery, and, as published by the convention, is modified in form.

THE DEBT STATEMENT.
The debt statement issued to-day shows the decrease of the public debt during the month of September to be $14,707,229. The decrease of the debt since June 30, 1883, $29,279,671.93. Cash in the treasury, $35,450,670.85. Gold certificates outstanding, $24,922,40. Silver certificates outstanding, $94,490,241. Certificates of deposit, $11,945,000. Refunding certificates, $32,950. Legal tenders, $345,081,06. Fractional currency, $2,992,466.31. Cash available October 1, $158,546,006.45.

THE YELLOW FEVER.
Its Introduction Fearred in San Francisco—The Mortality in Northwest Mexico.
SAN FRANCISCO, October 1.—Second Officer Graham of the steamer Newbern, from Guaymas, died of yellow fever yesterday after reaching the harbor. The captain stated that the disease developed itself after the vessel left Guaymas. Deaths were at first expressed as cholera, but later it was found to be yellow fever. He begged the king to give France a fresh proof of his sympathy by accepting an invitation to a banquet at the palace of Elisee this evening, to be attended by all the cabinet members of the French government, and as a proof of his friendship, he would accept the invitation. The king went to the palace of Elisee at 7 o'clock in the evening.

RUMORS IN PARIS.
PARIS, October 1.—Alarming reports prevail that the Spanish cabinet will demand that the French government shall make a public apology for the insults offered to King Alfonso, and that the German government will make a diplomatic remonstrance at the king's departure, to which the king has subjected. The cabinet is divided in opinion as to whether to accept the king's invitation to the banquet, and the king has decided to accept it.

THE KING'S DEPARTURE.
King Alfonso and suite left this city this morning on their return to Spain. There was a demonstration by the people on the departure. The Paris correspondent of the Times says King Alfonso is perfectly satisfied of the good faith of Prime Minister Ferry, as representing the French government. The king does not intend for a moment to accept an invitation to the banquet at the palace of Elisee, which was excited by the false statements of anarchist agitators, represents the French nation. In abridging his stay in Paris by this half the time, the king desires to diminish the difficulties that have arisen from his visit. The Marquis De Lono de Arroyo, Spanish minister of foreign affairs, and the Spanish government entirely agreed with the position of the king to leave Paris. King Alfonso was quite unaware of his appointment to the concolony of the urban regiment until he received it and his uniform simultaneously. The Emperor William inquired the appointment as an agreeable surprise. He would not lend himself to anything that would be likely to excite prejudice against one for whom he had taken an exceptional liking. Prince Bismarck has been nothing to do with the appointment. King Alfonso and the duke of Connaught exchanged visits on Sunday. President Greely went to the depot Saturday to greet King Alfonso reluctantly, but in his manner appeared cold his words were cordial. The Madrid correspondent of the Times says the hostile reception accorded to King Alfonso in Paris, had considerably increased his prestige at home. His personal courage and discretion, his dignified bearing during his progress through the streets of Paris, and his visit to President Greely's residence, at the Elisee without an escort, are subjects of general eulogium and of admiration by Spaniards.

ALFONSO IN PARIS.

GREY'S APOLOGY TO THE SPANISH KING.

The Hostile Mob Denounced, Alms by Press and People—Confession Expected of the Royal Visitor to Undo the Bad Effect of Saturday's Work—News From the Old World.

PARIS, October 1.—President Greely visited King Alfonso, of Spain, at the Spanish embassy Sunday afternoon. The interview was of the most cordial character. The Temps, referring to the hostile reception of King Alfonso by the populace says: The regret and patriotic humiliation occasioned to all good citizens by the events of yesterday should not cause us to exaggerate the importance of the melancholy manifestations. The few thousands who are the outlaws of this scandal, are a band of brawlers who are always ready to whistle and stamp their feet at public meetings, and who treated Thiers and Gambetta in a manner similar to that in which they treated King Alfonso, who no more respect the interests and dignity of France than they do the honor of other nations. We trust that other nations, especially Spain, will not regard the errors of a few fanatics, expressing the sentiments of France. The majority of the journals here contain editorials of like tenor to one above quoted.

THE KING AT MASS.
No arrests were made yesterday in connection with the demonstration against the king of Spain. The report that arrests had been made was erroneous. A rumor was in circulation that King Alfonso had left Paris, but it proved to be untrue. It is reported, however, that the king was advised to remain quiet, but refused, saying that he was perfectly aware of the fact that the hostile demonstration was not the work of the Parisian people but of some misguided individuals. The king attended mass at the church of St. Cloud yesterday morning. He sent a message to inquire concerning the condition of the cuirassier forming one of his escort Saturday, who was thrown from his horse. King Alfonso promised to provide for the injured man's family if his hurts should prove fatal.

The hunt at Rambouillet projected for to-day was postponed owing to the weather. King Alfonso dined Sunday evening with President Greely, at the palace of the Elisee. King Alfonso visited Epinay, returning in the afternoon. At an interview between King Alfonso and President Greely, at the Spanish embassy, Mr. Greely tendered an apology to the king for the behavior of the mob, in the name of the French people who he said, should not be confounded with the few fanatics who had committed the demonstrations. He begged the king to give France a fresh proof of his sympathy by accepting an invitation to a banquet at the palace of Elisee this evening, to be attended by all the cabinet members of the French government, and as a proof of his friendship, he would accept the invitation. The king went to the palace of Elisee at 7 o'clock in the evening.

RUMORS IN PARIS.
PARIS, October 1.—Alarming reports prevail that the Spanish cabinet will demand that the French government shall make a public apology for the insults offered to King Alfonso, and that the German government will make a diplomatic remonstrance at the king's departure, to which the king has subjected. The cabinet is divided in opinion as to whether to accept the king's invitation to the banquet, and the king has decided to accept it.

THE KING'S DEPARTURE.
King Alfonso and suite left this city this morning on their return to Spain. There was a demonstration by the people on the departure. The Paris correspondent of the Times says King Alfonso is perfectly satisfied of the good faith of Prime Minister Ferry, as representing the French government. The king does not intend for a moment to accept an invitation to the banquet at the palace of Elisee, which was excited by the false statements of anarchist agitators, represents the French nation. In abridging his stay in Paris by this half the time, the king desires to diminish the difficulties that have arisen from his visit. The Marquis De Lono de Arroyo, Spanish minister of foreign affairs, and the Spanish government entirely agreed with the position of the king to leave Paris. King Alfonso was quite unaware of his appointment to the concolony of the urban regiment until he received it and his uniform simultaneously. The Emperor William inquired the appointment as an agreeable surprise. He would not lend himself to anything that would be likely to excite prejudice against one for whom he had taken an exceptional liking. Prince Bismarck has been nothing to do with the appointment. King Alfonso and the duke of Connaught exchanged visits on Sunday. President Greely went to the depot Saturday to greet King Alfonso reluctantly, but in his manner appeared cold his words were cordial. The Madrid correspondent of the Times says the hostile reception accorded to King Alfonso in Paris, had considerably increased his prestige at home. His personal courage and discretion, his dignified bearing during his progress through the streets of Paris, and his visit to President Greely's residence, at the Elisee without an escort, are subjects of general eulogium and of admiration by Spaniards.

REACHING THE FRONTIER.
King Alfonso will reach the Spanish frontier at midnight. General Pita, secretary of President Greely, and the duke of Fernan Nunez, Spanish ambassador to France, escorted the king to the railway station. The king made an excellent impression upon the guests at the banquet at the Elisee. President Greely, in referring thereto, said he never expected to meet so much good sense and dignity and coolness in so young a sovereign.

EMIGRATION IN SPAIN.
MADRID, October 1.—The citizens here are highly incensed over the insults offered to King Alfonso in Paris. Bands of people paraded the streets yesterday evening, insulting the king to the railway station. The French embassy, and openly rebuffed the French embassy. The police, however, prevented any violence from being perpetrated.

SENOR MOREL, at a meeting of the democratic club, declared that the insults offered to the king affected the whole Spanish nation, which he declared would stand by the king. His utterances were received with loud cheering. Marshal Serrans has telegraphed to Senor Condras Decastillo that the cause of the king was here to-day on his way home, says that some misunderstanding has arisen about the action of the convention. The address of Mr. Frederick Douglass, which was given for a committee, was not adopted as the sense of the convention. A long discussion in the committee resulted in a vote adverse to its adoption, upon the ground that it contained good many opinions, the declaration of which was not called for by a body organized for the general advancement of the colored race rather than for any political purpose. The committee, which included amongst its twenty-four members W. A. Pledger of Georgia, George W. Williams of Ohio, the colored historian, and Judge Dumont of Louisiana, finally decided to lay aside Mr. Douglass's speech as a text, and entirely new resolutions, framed by Mr. Williams, were adopted and submitted to the convention. It appears that the desire on the part of some of Mr. Douglass's friends to give a political turn to the proceedings excited deep feeling in the convention, and the majority being opposed to the extreme views uttered by Mr. Douglass, his address was edited carefully after delivery, and, as published by the convention, is modified in form.

THE DEBT STATEMENT.
The debt statement issued to-day shows the decrease of the public debt during the month of September to be $14,707,229. The decrease of the debt since June 30, 1883, $29,279,671.93. Cash in the treasury, $35,450,670.85. Gold certificates outstanding, $24,922,40. Silver certificates outstanding, $94,490,241. Certificates of deposit, $11,945,000. Refunding certificates, $32,950. Legal tenders, $345,081,06. Fractional currency, $2,992,466.31. Cash available October 1, $158,546,006.45.

THE YELLOW FEVER.
Its Introduction Fearred in San Francisco—The Mortality in Northwest Mexico.
SAN FRANCISCO, October 1.—Second Officer Graham of the steamer Newbern, from Guaymas, died of yellow fever yesterday after reaching the harbor. The captain stated that the disease developed itself after the vessel left Guaymas. Deaths were at first expressed as cholera, but later it was found to be yellow fever. He begged the king to give France a fresh proof of his sympathy by accepting an invitation to a banquet at the palace of Elisee this evening, to be attended by all the cabinet members of the French government, and as a proof of his friendship, he would accept the invitation. The king went to the palace of Elisee at 7 o'clock in the evening.

RUMORS IN PARIS.
PARIS, October 1.—Alarming reports prevail that the Spanish cabinet will demand that the French government shall make a public apology for the insults offered to King Alfonso, and that the German government will make a diplomatic remonstrance at the king's departure, to which the king has subjected. The cabinet is divided in opinion as to whether to accept the king's invitation to the banquet, and the king has decided to accept it.

THE KING'S DEPARTURE.
King Alfonso and suite left this city this morning on their return to Spain. There was a demonstration by the people on the departure. The Paris correspondent of the Times says King Alfonso is perfectly satisfied of the good faith of Prime Minister Ferry, as representing the French government. The king does not intend for a moment to accept an invitation to the banquet at the palace of Elisee, which was excited by the false statements of anarchist agitators, represents the French nation. In abridging his stay in Paris by this half the time, the king desires to diminish the difficulties that have arisen from his visit. The Marquis De Lono de Arroyo, Spanish minister of foreign affairs, and the Spanish government entirely agreed with the position of the king to leave Paris. King Alfonso was quite unaware of his appointment to the concolony of the urban regiment until he received it and his uniform simultaneously. The Emperor William inquired the appointment as an agreeable surprise. He would not lend himself to anything that would be likely to excite prejudice against one for whom he had taken an exceptional liking. Prince Bismarck has been nothing to do with the appointment. King Alfonso and the duke of Connaught exchanged visits on Sunday. President Greely went to the depot Saturday to greet King Alfonso reluctantly, but in his manner appeared cold his words were cordial. The Madrid correspondent of the Times says the hostile reception accorded to King Alfonso in Paris, had considerably increased his prestige at home. His personal courage and discretion, his dignified bearing during his progress through the streets of Paris, and his visit to President Greely's residence, at the Elisee without an escort, are subjects of general eulogium and of admiration by Spaniards.

REACHING THE FRONTIER.
King Alfonso will reach the Spanish frontier at midnight. General Pita, secretary of President Greely, and the duke of Fernan Nunez, Spanish ambassador to France, escorted the king to the railway station. The king made an excellent impression upon the guests at the banquet at the Elisee. President Greely, in referring thereto, said he never expected to meet so much good sense and dignity and coolness in so young a sovereign.

EMIGRATION IN SPAIN.
MADRID, October 1.—The citizens here are highly incensed over the insults offered to King Alfonso in Paris. Bands of people paraded the streets yesterday evening, insulting the king to the railway station. The French embassy, and openly rebuffed the French embassy. The police, however, prevented any violence from being perpetrated.

SENOR MOREL, at a meeting of the democratic club, declared that the insults offered to the king affected the whole Spanish nation, which he declared would stand by the king. His utterances were received with loud cheering. Marshal Serrans has telegraphed to Senor Condras Decastillo that the cause of the king was here to-day on his way home, says that some misunderstanding has arisen about the action of the convention. The address of Mr. Frederick Douglass, which was given for a committee, was not adopted as the sense of the convention. A long discussion in the committee resulted in a vote adverse to its adoption, upon the ground that it contained good many opinions, the declaration of which was not called for by a body organized for the general advancement of the colored race rather than for any political purpose. The committee, which included amongst its twenty-four members W. A. Pledger of Georgia, George W. Williams of Ohio, the colored historian, and Judge Dumont of Louisiana, finally decided to lay aside Mr. Douglass's speech as a text, and entirely new resolutions, framed by Mr. Williams, were adopted and submitted to the convention. It appears that the desire on the part of some of Mr. Douglass's friends to give a political turn to the proceedings excited deep feeling in the convention, and the majority being opposed to the extreme views uttered by Mr. Douglass, his address was edited carefully after delivery, and, as published by the convention, is modified in form.

THE DEBT STATEMENT.
The debt statement issued to-day shows the decrease of the public debt during the month of September to be $14,707,229. The decrease of the debt since June 30, 1883, $29,279,671.93. Cash in the treasury, $35,450,670.85. Gold certificates outstanding, $24,922,40. Silver certificates outstanding, $94,490,241. Certificates of deposit, $11,945,000. Refunding certificates, $32,950. Legal tenders, $345,081,06. Fractional currency, $2,992,466.31. Cash available October 1, $158,546,006.45.

THE YELLOW FEVER.
Its Introduction Fearred in San Francisco—The Mortality in Northwest Mexico.
SAN FRANCISCO, October 1.—Second Officer Graham of the steamer Newbern, from Guaymas, died of yellow fever yesterday after reaching the harbor. The captain stated that the disease developed itself after the vessel left Guaymas. Deaths were at first expressed as cholera, but later it was found to be yellow fever. He begged the king to give France a fresh proof of his sympathy by accepting an invitation to a banquet at the palace of Elisee this evening, to be attended by all the cabinet members of the French government, and as a proof of his friendship, he would accept the invitation. The king went to the palace of Elisee at 7 o'clock in the evening.

RUMORS IN PARIS.
PARIS, October 1.—Alarming reports prevail that the Spanish cabinet will demand that the French government shall make a public apology for the insults offered to King Alfonso, and that the German government will make a diplomatic remonstrance at the king's departure, to which the king has subjected. The cabinet is divided in opinion as to whether to accept the king's invitation to the banquet, and the king has decided to accept it.

THE KING'S DEPARTURE.
King Alfonso and suite left this city this morning on their return to Spain. There was a demonstration by the people on the departure. The Paris correspondent of the Times says King Alfonso is perfectly satisfied of the good faith of Prime Minister Ferry, as representing the French government. The king does not intend for a moment to accept an invitation to the banquet at the palace of Elisee, which was excited by the false statements of anarchist agitators, represents the French nation. In abridging his stay in Paris by this half the time, the king desires to diminish the difficulties that have arisen from his visit. The Marquis De Lono de Arroyo, Spanish minister of foreign affairs, and the Spanish government entirely agreed with the position of the king to leave Paris. King Alfonso was quite unaware of his appointment to the concolony of the urban regiment until he received it and his uniform simultaneously. The Emperor William inquired the appointment as an agreeable surprise. He would not lend himself to anything that would be likely to excite prejudice against one for whom he had taken an exceptional liking. Prince Bismarck has been nothing to do with the appointment. King Alfonso and the duke of Connaught exchanged visits on Sunday. President Greely went to the depot Saturday to greet King Alfonso reluctantly, but in his manner appeared cold his words were cordial. The Madrid correspondent of the Times says the hostile reception accorded to King Alfonso in Paris, had considerably increased his prestige at home. His personal courage and discretion, his dignified bearing during his progress through the streets of Paris, and his visit to President Greely's residence, at the Elisee without an escort, are subjects of general eulogium and of admiration by Spaniards.

REACHING THE FRONTIER.
King Alfonso will reach the Spanish frontier at midnight. General Pita, secretary of President Greely, and the duke of Fernan Nunez, Spanish ambassador to France, escorted the king to the railway station. The king made an excellent impression upon the guests at the banquet at the Elisee. President Greely, in referring thereto, said he never expected to meet so much good sense and dignity and coolness in so young a sovereign.

EMIGRATION IN SPAIN.
MADRID, October 1.—The citizens here are highly incensed over the insults offered to King Alfonso in Paris. Bands of people paraded the streets yesterday evening, insulting the king to the railway station. The French embassy, and openly rebuffed the French embassy. The police, however, prevented any violence from being perpetrated.

SENOR MOREL, at a meeting of the democratic club, declared that the insults offered to the king affected the whole Spanish nation, which he declared would stand by the king. His utterances were received with loud cheering. Marshal Serrans has telegraphed to Senor Condras Decastillo that the cause of the king was here to-day on his way home, says that some misunderstanding has arisen about the action of the convention. The address of Mr. Frederick Douglass, which was given for a committee, was not adopted as the sense of the convention. A long discussion in the committee resulted in a vote adverse to its adoption, upon the ground that it contained good many opinions, the declaration of which was not called for by a body organized for the general advancement of the colored race rather than for any political purpose. The committee, which included amongst its twenty-four members W. A. Pledger of Georgia, George W. Williams of Ohio, the colored historian, and Judge Dumont of Louisiana, finally decided to lay aside Mr. Douglass's speech as a text, and entirely new resolutions, framed by Mr. Williams, were adopted and submitted to the convention. It appears that the desire on the part of some of Mr. Douglass's friends to give a political turn to the proceedings excited deep feeling in the convention, and the majority being opposed to the extreme views uttered by Mr. Douglass, his address was edited carefully after delivery, and, as published by the convention, is modified in form.

monarchy demanded his presence in Madrid. The officers of the garrison have also held a meeting, at which strong speeches against France were delivered.

The Spain newspaper says the demonstration against King Alfonso will remain a lasting shame to France, if she does not give the satisfaction which will show that the government of France has merely a nominal existence, and that a few seditious persons are more powerful than the authorities. The republican papers urge the Spanish people to be calm and prudent, in order to avoid playing into the hands of Bismarck. At a meeting of the dynastic left to-day, after a speech by Senor Morel, favoring the project, it was resolved to organize a great public demonstration in honor of the king on his arrival here. The military club of this city has also passed resolutions of similar tenor.

The queen and family returned from La Granja this afternoon and were greeted with enthusiasm by the populace. The streets from the depot to the place were thronged with carriages and pedestrians and an enormous crowd filled the depot, including many officers of the garrison. The queen and princesses were greeted with shouts and raised long live the king and queen. Occasional cries hostile to France were heard. The queen appeared twice on the balcony of the palace, in response to the plaudits of the multitude. A short time afterwards a group of excited youths went in the direction of the French embassy, crying, "Long live the Urban King! Down with the French." But dispersed

GEORGIA BY WIRE.

THE HAPPENINGS OF THE OUTLYING TOWNS NOTED.

Jail Broken Open—Religious Revival in Waynesboro
—Dawson's Cotton Receipts—Zoo Public Schools of Augusta—Wells Going Dry in Oxford, Alabama—Compelling in Paulding.

Athens, Georgia.
LOSSES ASCERTAINED.
Special to The Constitution.

ATHENS, October 1.—The losses of Jones & Thompson at Tallulah will reach four thousand dollars. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock and it was not until 11 o'clock that the fire was under control. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock and it was not until 11 o'clock that the fire was under control. The fire broke out at 10 o'clock and it was not until 11 o'clock that the fire was under control.

Milner, Georgia.
ZEBULON JAIL BROKEN OPEN.
Special to The Constitution.

MILNER, October 1.—News reached here this morning that the county jail at Zebulon was broken open on Saturday night and a half dozen or more prisoners made their escape. A negro workman who had been doing some work in the jail left his tools inside the jail, which were used by the prisoners in effecting a way of escape. None of the prisoners have yet been recaptured.

Waynesboro, Georgia.
AN INTERESTING REVIVAL.
Special to The Constitution.

WAYNESBORO, October 1.—A very interesting revival is in progress at the Methodist church at this place. There have been several accessions. Considerable quantities of cotton are being sold here. The fine weather that prevails affords a splendid opportunity for picking. The cotton crop of Burke, it is generally conceded, will be entirely gathered by the middle of November next.

Thomaston, Georgia.
AN EXCITING ELECTION.
Special to The Constitution.

THOMASTON, October 1.—Quite an exciting election is being held in this place to-day. The purpose of which was for the office of justice of the peace. Though it was quite a busy day in commercial circles yet merchants tore themselves away for awhile to exercise their right of suffrage. A large vote is being polled and the result is not known at this writing.

Dawson, Georgia.
CONVULSANTS.
Special to The Constitution.

DAWSON, October 1.—Senator J. G. Parks, who came home from Atlanta last Monday night quite sick, is convalescing slowly, though still confined to his bed. Mr. Noah P. Lee, a most excellent citizen of our county, died yesterday.

Savannah, Georgia.
A VESSEL SINKS.
Special to The Constitution.

SAVANNAH, October 1.—The steamer Mary Cooper, arrived from Hudson Ferry at 11 o'clock last night. It carried a large cargo of cotton and four hundred barrels of naval stores and general merchandise. She sank at her wharf this morning at five o'clock. Considerable of the cargo on deck floated off. Some have been secured by the boatmen. The accident was caused by bad mooring. She will be raised and resume her route on the river.

Augusta, Georgia.
THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.
Special to The Constitution.

AUGUSTA, October 1.—The public schools all opened to-day with a very large attendance. The system is working under the disadvantage of not having proper school buildings, but it is expected that this will be remedied in a short time by the erection of suitable buildings fitted up with every modern convenience.

Oxford, Alabama.
SHOULDER DISLOCATED.
Special to The Constitution.

OXFORD, October 1.—David Blankenship, while digging over in Anniston, had his left shoulder badly dislocated. Dr. Williams, of Oxford, by the aid of chloroform and skillful assistance, succeeded in promptly reducing it.

Wells Going Dry.
Special to The Constitution.

NEARLY every well in town is on the verge of going dry. Such a prolonged drought is rare for this section, and beginning to have light showers occasionally.

It is the general opinion that not more than half a crop of cotton or corn will be gathered in this county.

COTTON FACTORY.
Special to The Constitution.

THERE is some prospect of Oxford having a cotton factory in the near future.

Rev. Parker, of Gadsden, lectured at the Methodist church Saturday night last.

Chattanooga, Tennessee.
A PRISONER IN A DUNGEON.
Special to The Constitution.

CHATTANOOGA, October 1.—Henry Pickett, the Marion county fiddler, who was lodged in jail here for attempting to rape a fourteen year old white girl two weeks ago, has become so obstreperous and unmanageable in jail as to force the authorities to place him in a dungeon, and then his obscenity and blasphemous language became so great as to disgust all within hearing.

A VICTORY FOR MRS. WHITESIDES.
Special to The Constitution.

THE United States court to-day decided the famous Lookout mountain case. The question was that of granting Florence Whiteside an injunction to restrain L. J. Sharp from going to the point on Lookout, and the decision was rendered in favor of Miss Whiteside.

Dallas, Georgia.
FALLING'S CAMPMEETING.
Special to The Constitution.

DALLAS, October 1.—The first campmeeting of the year ever held in this place was commenced on last Friday and is still in progress about five miles south of Dallas. A few weeks ago the question of locating and establishing a permanent camp ground for the purpose of keeping the county convicts, was being agitated among our citizens.

A meeting was called to meet at the office of Dr. W. C. Connolly, when a committee was appointed to locate the grounds. A very appropriate place has been found and agreed upon about five miles south of here, near the Dallas and Villa Rica road. The grounds have been partially cleared off, a bush arbor erected, and a very good meeting is now going on. Senator Colquitt of your city in his inimitable style, preached the eleven o'clock sermon yesterday and Rev. Sam Jones of Cartersville preached at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. About enough money has been subscribed to buy the lot and build an arbor. We may safely say that a permanent camp meeting is now a certainty. The inauguration of this good work is due in a great measure to the untiring efforts of Rev. B. F. Payne.

Rome, Georgia.
MILITARY BAZAAR.
Special to The Constitution.

ROME, October 1.—A grand military bazaar opens to-morrow night, with prospects for a brilliant success, as the leading ladies of the city have, with their usual energy, taken charge.

The steamer, Hill City and Gadsden make their regular trips to Gadsden. Captain John Seay, sole owner of all our steamboats, is pushing the river business, and manages to give perfect satisfaction.

NO, THANK YOU.
Special to The Constitution.

Quite a discussion is going on here over this question, "Was the year 1800 the last of the nineteenth century or the first year of the twentieth?" A great many bets are being made on the question.

Two young bankers, two young jewelers, and wholesale dry goods men, four of the "toniest" young men of Rome, went to the jail last night on their first prison hunt. They didn't find any possums but a pole cat tried them.

Griffin, Georgia.
COTTON RECEIPTS.
Special to The Constitution.

GRIFFIN, October 1.—Cotton receipts here for the month of September are 3,500; same time last year 1,300. The season's earlier, but at the same time we are gaining instead of losing.

Regular services occurred at the police court this morning. The nickles rattled into the missionary box lively. It is rumored that our present city chain gang system will be abolished.

THE ATLANTA NEGRO.
Special to The Constitution.

A squad of some ten or fifteen representative Atlanta colored troops dropped in upon us Sunday afternoon all rigged in soldier clothes. They are having a festival to-night. As far as we heard from they are conducting themselves as they should. There is a good deal of feeling about the average Atlanta negro, and when they tumble on a place the size of this they draw well, and it doesn't take many to do it either.

Marietta, Georgia.
CORN COUNTY SUGAR CANE.
Special to The Constitution.

MARIETTA, October 1.—Mr. J. D. Fuller brought into town last Thursday a wagon-load of sugar cane that he had raised on his farm on Soap creek, about seven miles from town. It was very fine, the stalks being six or more feet in height, and those who saw it would not believe that it was raised here, as it was so much finer than that received from lower Georgia. Mr. Fuller stated that he had sold a patch of the cane, about one-fourth acre, for $300 and would not take $300 for another patch of about one acre. He said that the cane had been cut short by the drought, and if it had sufficient rain the crop would have been almost double.

ROMANCE IN A DRY GOODS STORE.
Special to The Constitution.

Last Thursday James J. Story and his sweetheart, a Miss Georgia Friggs, both from Due West settlement, in this county, evaded the watchful eyes of unwilling parents, came here and procured a license and went to the dry goods store of Mr. J. J. Northcutt and asked for Rev. Robert Baber, who clerks there. Mr. Baber came forward and asked what they would have. The prospective groom answered: "To get married." "When and where?" asked Mr. Baber. "Here and now," answered Story. The doors of the store were closed.

After the ceremony performed. After the marriage the groom was so much taken up with his bride that he forgot to take up a collection for the minister. They went out covered with a double blanket and dust, and got into a buggy and drove rapidly away as if fearing pursuit. They have long desired to wed, but have been kept apart by stern parents.

Deatur, Georgia.
THE WORK OF DEKALB COURT.
Special to The Constitution.

DEKATUR, October 1.—DeKalb superior court adjourned Saturday evening, after two weeks' hard and continuous work. The larger portion of the time was consumed in trying criminal cases. Henry Cato, colored, was convicted of murder and sentenced to be hung Friday, November 9th. His attorneys, Candler, Thompson & Candler and Hon. H. C. Jones have made a motion before the court, asking that the sentence be set aside and that the prisoner be allowed to live for at least twelve months. The penitentiary will be reinforced with Phil. White, colored, charged with burglary and convicted and sentenced to live years. Jerry Bennett, colored, cattle stealing, two years. Joe Sluder, colored, cattle stealing, two years.

THE CHAIN GANG.
Special to The Constitution.

The change in our county, which will be worked at the pauper farm, will be established with George W. Green, alias Jones, colored, one month; Will Turner, shooting at another, six months, and carrying concealed weapons, two months. Fines were $100, colored, stabbing six months. Fines were $100, colored, shooting at another, six months. Fines were $100, colored, shooting at another, six months. Fines were $100, colored, shooting at another, six months.

Imposed on G. W. Collier, assault and battery, twenty dollars and cost; Louis Cochran, selling liquor without license, fifty dollars and cost; Miss Johnson, colored, charged with two cases; Miss Johnson, colored, charged with two cases; Miss Johnson, colored, charged with two cases.

James Still, misdemeanor, twenty dollars and cost; W. H. George, fornication, ten dollars and cost; Crawford Phillips, selling liquor to minor, twenty dollars and cost; William Henderson, colored, misdemeanor, twenty-five dollars and cost; James Glozier, ten dollars and cost; John McElroy, ten dollars and cost; J. S. Boozer, adultery, two hundred and fifty dollars and cost; James Gilman, selling liquor to minor, five dollars and cost; M. A. Killian, trespass, fifty dollars and cost; Laura Barnett (colored), charged with murder, was tried and acquitted. There were also a number of persons charged with small offenses.

In one case the jury could not agree and a mistrial was ordered. There were but few civil cases tried by the jury. Several foreclosures were foreclosed, and a consignment of business disposed of in various ways. The grand jury was in session ten days. They found a number of true bills, and in a few cases returned no bill. In their general presentments they say they visited the pauper farm, found the building sufficient for all paupers of the county, and that they were well cared for. The farm consist of 160 acres of land, five two room houses and one four room house. The farm and buildings cost the county about one thousand dollars; think it will save money in the future as the expenses of each inmate at present are only about ten cents per day. They recommended the ordinary to build a stockade at the pauper farm for the keeping of the county convicts. They found the jail badly constructed and so small that it cannot be kept in that healthy condition that is desirable. They recommended that as soon as practicable steps be taken to build a larger and better one.

Singleton was recommended for notary public in 1327 (Clarkston) district. They recommended the ordinary grant no more liquor license in the county as they find about seventy-five per cent of the crimes in the county originate from the sale and use of whiskey. There were twenty three grand jurors served ten days, twenty four petit jurors twelve days and thirty six tales jurors seven days, each received two dollars per day, amounting to one thousand five hundred and forty dollars. Other expenses connected with the court will run the amount up to about two thousand dollars. This amount does not include the feeding of prisoners during their confinement in jail.

GEORGIA GOSSIP.

SHORT TALKS WITH THE SCRIBES OF THE COUNTY PRESS.

Fire at Tallulah—Catepillars in Butte—Giles on Fire
—Mrs. Sawell's Loss—New Steamer on the Savannah—The Fall of the Albany—A Serious Accident in Canton.

Rome is engaged in the registration of her city voters.

Valdosta expects a large number of visitors from the north this winter.

Captain H. S. Talbert's steam gin in Canton narrowly escaped burning a few days ago.

There is a good deal of cow stealing going on in the north. The late insurance of a number of Jersey cattle has made this subject interesting.

A cutting and shooting affray took place at Wall's mill, Lowndes county, on last Sunday. John Elmore was shot at twice by a stranger, was under the undue influence of corn liquor.

Colonel A. H. Moor is in Philadelphia and New York engaged in negotiating with and forming a company with a party of capitalists for a new gold mining enterprise in Cherokee adjoining Forsyth county.

On Wednesday night Mr. J. A. Daniel, receiver of tax returns of Sumter county, was attacked by vertigo and fell to the floor like he was shot. For an hour or two his family thought he would die, but he is now up and able to attend his duties.

The sheriff of Pierce county was arrested last Monday by a constable. A constable had levied on and sold a still, and the sheriff had also levied on the same still. (Quite a number of others were arrested by the constable upon the same day.)

The Jackson Argus says: We learn that a Cleveland, of Henry county, while in a drunken state, shot his wife on Saturday night, and the last account was heard that she is not expected to live. What ought to be done with the rascal?

Caterpillars have appeared in many of the cotton fields of Butts county, but the crop being so far advanced, and the weather so dry, little damage will be done by them. The Elberton News South, has changed hands lately. Mr. E. B. Tate and Hon. Phil. W. Davis are the proprietors now.

On Monday night, a ginning cotton on Mr. M. B. Council's place, near eleven miles from Americus, Scrap Ross, negro, got his right hand caught in the saws of the gin, and before the gin could be stopped, his whole arm up to the shoulder was sawed into ribbons, and the right side of his head was cut off. The Villa Rica correspondent of the Carroll Times says: H. C. Sawell, from Atlanta, who was visiting this place yesterday, lost his pocket book containing $500 in money and valuable papers, but the good fortune to recover it through Mr. Snuggs, who found it in the road near William Hogue's. Monroe Allen also lost a $20 bill in town Saturday evening; we have not learned whether he found it or not.

Columbus Sun: The public gin, belonging to Cary J. Thornton was destroyed by fire yesterday morning, together with four bales of lint cotton and about 900 bushels of cotton seed. The bales of cotton belonged to Frank Peterson, and the seed to Mr. W. H. West. Mr. Hal Hillman lost about six or seven hundred bushels of cotton seed last Monday. Mr. Booker lost about 200 bushels. Mr. Thornton's loss is about $400.

Cunningham Courier: The millhouse for a twenty stamp mill on the Charles mine on the Etowah river, in this county, is complete. It is a large building, arranged and ready for first class machinery of the latest and best pattern. The mill is now being set up, and all will be in operation in a few weeks. After the first twenty are in operation ground will be broken at once for an additional twenty stamp mill. It is intended to have a fifty stamp mill in operation in a short time.

Friday night a fire broke out at 1 o'clock, Sam Green, fireman on the North-east railroad, discovered the stable and barroom, of the Young hotel, to be on fire. The stable contained one horse and two mules, and the barroom contained a large number of guests. The bar and stable were run by Messrs. Jones & Thompson, of Toccoa, all of which is a total loss, estimated at between $2,000 and $2,500. Mr. Young owned the buildings and billiard table. Nothing was saved except a few hacks and buggies and Mr. Thompson's fine pigs. Messrs. Young, Jones and Thompson all being absent, caused almost a panic at the hotel.

Atlanta Advance: On last Tuesday, while Mr. Copeland, saw mill manager for Colonel W. E. Nickerson, was assisting in getting a log on the mill carriage, he was seriously and painfully hurt. Mr. Copeland was working on the mill carriage, and was carrying a log when one of the machinery "jumped a cog." In attempting to stop the machinery by use of the lever, the lever flew up and struck Mr. Copeland under the chin with such force that it knocked him backward, and his head came in contact with the log on the platform, making an additional wound to that made by the lever. He is in serious danger of losing his life.

Albany News: Thursday, September 27th, being the anniversary of the birth of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Wessolowsky, their relatives and a few few friends were invited to spend the evening with them at their residence and celebrate the occasion. The crowd began to gather at about half past seven, and as soon as a happy throng of relatives and friends had assembled. During the first part of the evening the guests were pleasantly entertained by music on the piano by Mrs. Fletcher and singing by Miss Emma Wessolowsky.

Mrs. D. Strauss. After awhile the groom of twelve months announced that the guests were wanted in the dining room. Just then a march was struck up by the band, and the guests followed in a line of march was formed to the table. Here we met a most bountiful spread of the choicest viands, to which full justice was done by all. Then toasts were in order. Mr. C. Wessolowsky being first called upon. He made a very appropriate speech for the occasion. After spending an hour or more around the table, the parlor was again sought, and good cheer, sweet music and social converse ruled the hour. The party dispersed at about 1 o'clock. Dr. H. H. Wessolowsky, "many happy returns."

Waycross Reporter: In accordance with previous notice a meeting was held at the courthouse last Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the object of which was the organization of a fruit and truck growers' association. On motion, Captain N. Dixon was called to the chair and W. A. Wright appointed secretary. By request Dr. Wm. B. Folks addressed the meeting, and upon motion Captain N. Dixon was elected permanent president, G. S. Roach vice-president, and W. A. Wright treasurer.

The following gentlemen were appointed by the chair to draft a constitution and by-laws: Captain E. H. Crawley, Colonel J. C. McDonald, Dr. W. B. Folks, Mr. Wm. Miller and J. M. Stiger. This committee will report at the next meeting to take place at 3 o'clock in the afternoon of the first Monday in October. Before adjournment the following gentlemen were enrolled as members of the association: J. G. Clough, H. Linzer, S. F. Miller, J. Barnes, T. M. Sweet, L. A. Wilson, J. R. Knight and T. B. McDonald.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

IN LAUNE ATTIRE.

The Effort of a Lowndes County Girl to Achieve No Tority.

It is not often that our quiet and progressive city furnishes anything on the sensational side. Our people pursue the even tenor of their way and are but seldom excited over the startling and unusual developments in private life, which are so common in some portions of the country. We are, however, in possession of a very interesting and very amusing incident which took place in our town a short time ago, and which we are constrained to give to the public.

There lives in Valdosta a young girl of about thirteen or fourteen summers. She is of ordinary size, with Auburn locks and eyes with a tendency to blue. She is not considered pretty, but will compare favorably with the average damsel of the day. Catherine Hewitt has led a most unconventional life. She has learned but little of the ways of the world, and her knowledge as to what was being acted in the great theatre of life is but meagre and only such as came to her by chance within the sphere of her own family.

At the time referred to, Catherine determined all at once that she would break the dull monotony of her heretofore quiet life. She resolved to throw off the restraints which had bound her and go out into the world and make her fate as brave a warrior as heroine.

She confided her intentions to a friend; her plans were discussed; the sympathy of her confidante secured; and hasty preparations made to carry her plot into execution. To be short, she made up her mind to go to the world as a man—she would don a man's attire. Her hair was closely cut and she soon incased herself in a gentleman's suit of clothes provided for the purpose. Her friends looked upon her with admiring eyes, and pronounced her a fine specimen of youthful manhood. Catherine bade her assistant a hasty adieu, and set out with a beating heart upon her life's errand. After she had got without the town limits she thought struck her for the first time: what shall I do and where shall I go? She went she knew not where, and at last came to Wall's mill, about six miles east of Valdosta. She told her husband she wanted to see a man named Wall. Though her phibishe did not present a form and combination where every good deed seemed to set his seal to give the world assurance of a man, yet no one doubted her sex, and she gave a position at the mill. Wall knew that he had employed a girl dressed in a man's clothes! Theyoung adventress worked for a day or two and the mill hands none the wiser. In the mean time, the father of the girl gave the news that his daughter had run away, and a careful search was instituted to discover her whereabouts. By mere accident he learned that a stranger person answering the description given of his daughter, was at Wall's mill. Mr. Hewitt hastened to the place mentioned and claimed his once lost girl. The reader can imagine the surprise and wonderment of those who witnessed the strange proceedings. The would-be boy was taken home and severely lectured on her strange and unnatural freak. Thus ends the tale.

THE FATAL BULLET.
Probable Suicide of a Young White Man in a Bryan Street Saloon—Shot Through the Heart.
From the Savannah News.

Shortly after 11 o'clock last night the body of a pistol was heard on Bryan street, near Jefferson, in the vicinity of a saloon known as the "Workingmen's Home," kept by a colored man named W. B. Brown. A minute later a white man, who occupied a room on the second floor of the place, came to the top of the stairs and said that a man in the room with him had committed suicide. The proprietor went up to the room and found a young white man lying on the bed with a bullet wound in his breast and a pistol lying by his side.

The victim was apparently about 22 years of age, about five feet in height, of medium build, with smooth face and dark hair. He was partially dressed in a blue checked shirt and black and white check pants. A straw hat lay on the bed by his side, and his coat and working clothes lay on the floor. The pistol was a small single barrel revolver, carrying a No. 22 cartridge. In the dead man's pockets were found a memorandum book, bearing on the cover the names "J. J. Tudor, Captain Sanchez, Savannah, Ga.," a bottle of medicine, two bottles of castor oil, a plug of tobacco, a ten cent silver coin, a number 22 cartridge, the same size as the calibre of the pistol. The hip pocket of his pantaloons was turned inside out and had apparently been tampered with. The lining might have been pulled out, howbeit, the bullet was withdrawn.

It was carried in this pocket. There was nothing to identify the man except the memorandum book, bearing the names Tudor and Sanchez. The proprietor of the saloon stated that the deceased had been in the room about 10 o'clock and applied for lodging, and was given a bed in the room occupied by a book canvasser named R. W. Consart. He paid the book-keeper 25 cents, and bought a bunch of fish and biscuits, which he took up to his room. He returned a few minutes later and said that he was going to take a bath. That was the last seen of him until he was found dead. The room contained two single beds next to the south wall. The book canvasser stated he lay on his bed in a drowsy when the stranger entered, but roused up and they talked for some time. The stranger said he was employed on a rosin boat lying at the Central railroad wharves, and talked about his home, his family, and his prospects in the hospital, and about his little sister in the St. Mary's Orphan's home. After talking a few minutes he offered to share his lunch, and soon after lay down. The canvasser was lying on his bed, and the stranger's head was on his arm. The canvasser was aroused by the sound of a pistol, and jumping up, saw the man start forward in a sitting posture and then fall back with a groan. He rushed through the next room to the head of the stairs, and gave the alarm. He returned under arrest, and taken to the police barracks to await the result of the coroner's investigation.

A Steamer Scuttled.
From the Dublin Gazette.

The Colville, we stated last week, was sunk at about 1 o'clock in Dublin, and was taken to the bottom. The ship was a small steamer, and was carrying a large cargo of coal. The ship was taken to the bottom by a large cargo of coal. The ship was taken to the bottom by a large cargo of coal.

Those Little Ones from Home.
From the Chipley Leader.

A certain good looking married man from Columbus, came up a few evenings since, and concealing the fact of his marriage, he was invited to go out visiting with a crowd of young men. His prior experience soon enabled him to be the lion of the evening. The girls gathered about him a certain young lady in the following gentlemen were enrolled as members of the association: J. G. Clough, H. Linzer, S. F. Miller, J. Barnes, T. M. Sweet, L. A. Wilson, J. R. Knight and T. B. McDonald.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend.

Journalist 3 o'clock p. m., first Monday in October, when all are invited to attend

M'BRIDE'S CHINA PALACE
HAMMERED BRASS LAMPS, ELEGANT CHINA,
CUTLERY, CROCKERY, LAMPS, MIR-RORS, CHANDLERS, SPOONS, FORKS, CASTORS, STATUARY, HOUSEFURNISHING
GOODS, SETH THOMAS CLOCKS, SHOW
CASES, LARGEST STOCK, FINEST GOODS, LOWEST PRICES IN THE SOUTH.

M'BRIDE'S CHINA PALACE
LOOK OUT FOR BARGAINS

For the next thirty days I will offer to the public my entire stock of Diamonds, Watches, Jewelry, Clocks, and the celebrated Meriden Britannia Company's Silverware at astonishingly low prices. Give me a call and I will convince you that you will save money by giving me a trial. I will sell regardless of profit and cost. You will find me head-quarters for fine tinted and white crystal spectacles and eye glasses, which I guarantee to give satisfaction for five years. Call and see them.

F. PICKETT,
6 Whitehall street.

COTTON AND WEATHER.

Cotton—Middling uplands closed in Liverpool yesterday at 5 1/2 New York at 9 1/2; in Atlanta at 10 1/2-10 3/4.

Daily Weather Report.
OBSERVATIONS, STATION, CORN, U. S. A.
U. S. Custom House, October 1, 1883, P. M.
All observations taken at the same moment of time at each place named.

NAME OF STATION.	Barometer.	Thermometer.	Wind.	Direction.	Force.	Rainfall.	Weather.
Atlanta.	29.91	74.69	S.	Fresh.	07.	Clear.
Augusta.	29.91	74.69	S.	Fresh.	07.	Clear.
Greenville.	29.91	74.69	S.	Fresh.	07.	Clear.
Indianapolis.	29.91	74.69	S.	Fresh.	07.	Clear.
Key West.	29.91	74.69	S.	Fresh.	07.	Clear.
Mobile.	29.91	74.69	S.	Fresh.	07.	Clear.
Montgomery.	29.91	74.69	S.	Fresh.	07.	Clear.
New Orleans.	29.91	74.69	S.	Fresh.	07.	Clear.
Pensacola.	29.91	74.69	S.	Fresh.	07.	Clear.
Portland.	29.91	74.69	S.	Fresh.	07.	Clear.
Savannah.	29.91	74.69	S.	Fresh.	07.	Clear.

LOCAL OBSERVATIONS.

Time of observation.	Barometer.	Thermometer.	Wind.	Direction.	Force.	Rainfall.	Weather.
5:31 a. m.	30.05	68.63	W.	Fresh.	00.	Fair.
10:31 a. m.	30.04	74.69	S.	Fresh.	07.	Clear.
2:31 p. m.	29.95	80.63	S. W.	Fresh.	00.	Fair.
5:31 p. m.	29.95	80.63	W. Light.	Fair.	00.	Fair.
10:31 p. m.	29.91	74.69	S.	Fresh.	07.	Clear.

Time of observation.	Barometer.	Thermometer.	Wind.	Direction.	Force.	Rainfall.	Weather.
5:31 a. m.	30.05	68.63	W.	Fresh.	00.	Fair.
10:31 a. m.	30.04	74.69	S.	Fresh.	07.	Clear.
2:31 p. m.	29.95	80.63	S. W.	Fresh.	00.	Fair.
5:31 p. m.	29.95	80.63	W. Light.	Fair.	00.	Fair.
10:31 p. m.	29.91	74.69	S.	Fresh.	07.	Clear.

Observations taken at 5 p. m.—Local time.

Atlanta District.

Station.	Barometer.	Thermometer.	Wind.	Direction.	Force.	Rainfall.	Weather.
Atlanta.	29.91	74.69	S.	Fresh.	07.	Clear.
Spartanburg.	29.91	74.69	S.	Fresh.	07.	Clear.
Toccoa.	29.91	74.69	S.	Fresh.	07.	Clear.
Gainesville.	29.91	74.69	S.	Fresh.	07.	Clear.
Dalton.	29.91	74.69	S.	Fresh.	07.	Clear.
Calhoun.	29.91	74.69	S.	Fresh.	07.	Clear.
Cartersville.	29.91	74.69	S.	Fresh.	07.	Clear.
West Point.	29.91	74.69	S.	Fresh.	07.	Clear.
Newnan.	29.91	74.69	S.	Fresh.	07.	Clear.
Griffin.	29.91	74.69	S.	Fresh.	07.	Clear.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

Atlanta District.

HAMBERLIN, BOYNTON & CO.
OFFER
THE COMING WEEK MOST EXQUISITE NOVELTIES IN BROCADE VELVETS, ALL THE NEW COLORS, DESIGNS AND FABRICS.
ALSO
THE BIGGEST STOCK BLACK AND COLORED RADZMA, GROS GRAIN, FRENCH FAUTE SILKS
IN THIS STATE, AND AT PRICES BEYOND COMPETITION.

EXAMINE OUR CARPETS AND UPHOLSTERY MATERIAL. NO SUCH STOCK SOUTH. MORE CARPETS, LATER DESIGNS THAN ANY HOUSE IN THE CITY. PRICES CAN'T BE BEAT.

SHOES! SHOES! SHOES!
Splendid Stock Shoes, Nice, Fresh Goods. Can Fit Anybody. All Styles.

HAMBERLIN, BOYNTON & CO.
Agents Butterick Patterns

A WORD TO THE PUBLIC.

While we haven't been making much of a flourish in the way of advertising in the public journals, we are determined to let everybody know just what we are doing. We have bought this space from The Constitution, and hereafter will be prepared to say many pleasant things of interest to the people. Our business has increased so rapidly that we have had to exactly double our store capacity, and yet we have not been in Atlanta twelve months. This shows how our goods are appreciated. Our line of crockery, silver plated and bronze goods cannot be surpassed in this market.

DOBBBS & BROTHER,
53 PEACHTREE, ATLANTA.

FINE ENGRAVINGS.
THE ASSORTMENT OF ENGRAVINGS I HAVE just received from

GOUPIE
Consists of
ARTISTS' PROOFS
Of the most celebrated artists of Europe and America, and is, possibly, the finest collection ever shown in Atlanta.

During the week we will take great pleasure in showing them, and will remain open every evening until 10 o'clock P. M.
Successor to Lovejoy & Pritchard,
28 Whitehall street.

LYNCH & LESTER
—BOOKSELLERS AND STATIONERS.—
COMPLETE LINE OF BLANK BOOKS.
Commercial Stationery printed to order.

F. L. FREYER,
The oldest and only exclusive Dealer in PIANOS & ORGANS,
In Atlanta, keeps the finest instruments.

27 WHITEHALL.
Cash or on time. Second-hand Pianos for sale low, thoroughly repaired and will last many years. Yet
Pianos and Organs rented, tuned and repaired.
Call and get the best instruments for the least money. Catalogues and further information cheerfully given by mail. Address:
F. L. FREYER,
27 Whitehall st., Atlanta, Ga.

WANTED IN FLORIDA.
The Florida State Bank after the Postive
Forger, Latta.

Captain Couch yesterday received a telegram
from Chief of Police Vincent, at Jacksonville, Fla., asking what disposition had been made of the case against Latta, the young man who presented the forged draft of Maddox & Rucker's bank last week. The telegram asked for an immediate answer. Messrs. Maddox and Rucker have received a telegram from Titus Richards at Crawfordsville, saying that his name to the draft had been forged. They have also received a dispatch from J. H. Madden, the president of the Merchants and Farmers bank at Charlotte, stating that Latta should not be released on bail as he had forged a number of checks on his bank and that he was wanted in Savannah and Jacksonville. His brother has not yet arrived in the city. Mr. Peel of the Maddox & Rucker banking house, declaring that they will prosecute him to the extent of the law and will exert himself to have the amount of his bond repaid.

A Terrible Fall.
Early yesterday morning Mr. F. J. B. Guthrie, an aged gentleman, fell through the elevator of P. & G. T. Dodd's store on Alabama street, corner of Pryor street. Mr. Guthrie, in addition to being an old man is nearly blind. He is engaged in the mercantile business on Decatur street, and went to the Messrs. Dodd's for the purpose of examining the building and the elevator. He entered the store he passed two of the clerks without exchanging a word. He continued toward the rear of the building and was about half way up the store, and when opposite the elevator, he turned to his left and walked right into the opening through the elevator passes. The elevator was below the floor and upon it Mr. Guthrie fell with $200 per annum was paid. A moment after the fall he lay on the floor, his head being making his fall about twelve feet. There was no one near the elevator when he fell and his fall is attributed to his bad eyes. The noise made by the fall attracted the attention of one of the clerks and Mr. Guthrie was quickly rescued. Dr. Nicholson was summoned by Mr.
Dodd. An examination of the gentleman's injuries developed the fact that his right hip had been badly fractured, and that a deep cut had been inflicted over the temple. There was also an ugly gash on his upper lip, from which blood flowed profusely. Mr.
Guthrie was removed to the Benevolent home where everything was done that could be done to alleviate his sufferings. Dr. Nicholson thinks the injuries severe but not serious. No one was to blame for the accident and the Messrs. Dodd, who regret it very much, all others are doing everything in their power for Mr. Guthrie.

The City Council.
There was a full attendance of the local legislators last night when Mayor Goodwin called the council to order. The usual number of petitions were presented and referred to their appropriate committees. A resolution fixing the salary of the chairman of the board of street commissioners at $200 per annum was read. A motion to amend the amount he charged with having withdrawn was offered by the resolution. The committee after a lively and spirited debate, the committee on "contract with the chamber of commerce"
submitted a majority report and a minority report.
The majority report favored the lease at $2.00 per year and the minority report opposed it. The minority report was adopted. There were reports from all of the regular committees.

Died in a Chicken Coop.
Coroner Hilburn yesterday held an inquest over the dead body of a negro man. The man's name was Love Rodgers. Early yesterday morning he was found dead in a chicken coop in his father's yard on Randolph street at the corner of West street. The evidence showed that he had been in the habit of sleeping in the coop and that he sought his bed in the Sunday night in apparent good health. There were no marks of violence and as the boy's health was reputed as a bad case of death from "chicken epilepsy" was rendered.

The Atlanta Legal Association.
This association held its third meeting last night.
It is now permanently organized and on a solid basis. The next meeting will be held on Thursday, October 11th, at 8 p. m., at the office of Haygood &
Marlin, which after some short literary exercises the association will consider the following question, to-wit:
Resolved, That trial by jury should be abolished. The association supplies a long felt want among the younger members of the bar, and the next meeting promises to be of unusual interest.

The Georgia Electric Medical College.
The opening exercises of the Georgia Electric Medical college were held yesterday morning. The opening address was by Dr. J. Ross, professor of institutes of medicine and medical jurisprudence. The lecture was on "medicine as a science; the history of medicine. The physician and the student." The lecture was exceedingly interesting and instructive and was listened to with marked attention by a large number of ladies and gentlemen who were present.

The Lyric Club.
The Lyric club will meet to-night at the residence of Mr. P. J. Kenny. A delightful time is expected.

A true extract from minutes of Fulton Superior Court, June 1, 1883.

R. H. Wright vs. Kate Wright. Libel for Divorc-ment in Fulton Superior Court, Spring Term, 1883.
IT APPEARING TO THE COURT BY THE REturn of the sheriff in the above case that the defendant does not reside in said county, and I further being made to appear to the court that she does not reside in this state, it is ordered that the court that service be perfected by the publication of this order once a month for four months, before
the next term of this court in the Atlanta Constitution, a newspaper published in Fulton county, Georgia.
W. R. HAMMOND, J. S. C. A.

ALEX. R. JONES
Petitioner's attorney.
A true extract from minutes of Fulton Superior
Court, June 1, 1883.
C. H. STRONG, Clerk.

A true extract from minutes of Fulton Superior Court, May 7th, 1883.

C. H. STRONG, C. S. C.

M. J. WHITFIELD vs. W. P. WHITFIELD. Libel for Divorc-
ment in Fulton Superior Court, Spring Term, 1883.
IT APPEARING TO THE COURT BY THE REturn of the sheriff in the above case that the defendant does not reside in said county, and I
further being made to appear to the court that she does not reside in this state, it is ordered that the court that service be perfected by the publication of
this order once a month for four months, before
the next term of this court in the Atlanta Constitution, a newspaper published in Fulton county, Georgia.
W. R. HAMMOND, J. S. C. A.

A true extract from minutes of Fulton Superior Court, April 12, 1883.

C. H. STRONG, Clerk.

ALL CREDITORS OF THE ESTATE OF ROBERT K. WYLY, late of Fulton county, deceased, are hereby notified to render in their demands to the undersigned according to law, and all persons indebted to said estate are required to make immediate payment.
SARAH A. WYLY, Administratrix.

September 4, 1883.

THE LOUISVILLE EXPOSITION.
A Fine Display of Steam Engines by the Taylor Manufacturing Company.
One of the largest exhibitors in steam engines at the Louisville exposition are the Taylor manufacturing company of Chambersburg, Pa. They have turing engines, two saw mills and two Moore county
grist mills on exhibition.
Their 100 horse power oil engine drives all the
cotton and woolen exhibits of the exposition and is a beautiful piece of workmanship. It is very heavy
and substantial and is as smooth a runner as it has ever felt to our lot to see. Standing on either end of cylinder heads are nickles which stand all
day long so smoothly does it run as not disturb
the position. Their other engines, of various size and styles, are also exceedingly fine pieces of workmanship and design. The North Carolina
millstone company's celebrated "Moore county
grist" mill exhibited by his company, grinding
fine table meal attract much attention by the grain meal they turn out. This Moore county
superior mill stone has in a short time developed a wonderful reputation as stone suitable for corn meal
grinding and like many other new enterprises in
the south, we predict for it a brilliant future.

THE LOUISVILLE EXPOSITION.
A Fine Display of Steam Engines by the Taylor Manufacturing Company.
One of the largest exhibitors in steam engines at the Louisville exposition are the Taylor manufacturing company of Chambersburg, Pa. They have
turing engines, two saw mills and two Moore county
grist mills on exhibition.
Their 100 horse power oil engine drives all the
cotton and woolen exhibits of the exposition and is a beautiful piece of workmanship. It is very heavy
and substantial and is as smooth a runner as it has ever felt to our lot to see. Standing on either end of cylinder heads are nickles which stand all
day long so smoothly does it run as not disturb
the position. Their other engines, of various
size and styles, are also exceedingly fine pieces of
workmanship and design. The North Carolina
millstone company's celebrated "Moore county
grist" mill exhibited by his company, grinding
fine table meal attract much attention by the
grain meal they turn out. This Moore county
superior mill stone has in a short time developed a wonderful reputation as stone suitable for corn meal
grinding and like many other new enterprises in
the south, we predict for it a brilliant future.

THE LOUISVILLE EXPOSITION.
A Fine Display of Steam Engines by the Taylor Manufacturing Company.
One of the largest exhibitors in steam engines at the Louisville exposition are the Taylor manufacturing company of Chambersburg, Pa. They have
turing engines, two saw mills and two Moore county
grist mills on exhibition.
Their 100 horse power oil engine drives all the
cotton and woolen exhibits of the exposition and is a beautiful piece of workmanship. It is very heavy
and substantial and is as smooth a runner as it has ever felt to our lot to see. Standing on either end of cylinder heads are nickles which stand all
day long so smoothly does it run as not disturb
the position. Their other engines, of various
size and styles, are also exceedingly fine pieces of
workmanship and design. The North Carolina
millstone company's celebrated "Moore county
grist" mill exhibited by his company, grinding
fine table meal attract much attention by the
grain meal they turn out. This Moore county
superior mill stone has in a short time developed a wonderful reputation as stone suitable for corn meal
grinding and like many other new enterprises in
the south, we predict for it a brilliant future.

THE LOUISVILLE EXPOSITION.
A Fine Display of Steam Engines by the Taylor Manufacturing Company.
One of the largest exhibitors in steam engines at the Louisville exposition are the Taylor manufacturing company of Chambersburg, Pa. They have
turing engines, two saw mills and two Moore county
grist mills on exhibition.
Their 100 horse power oil engine drives all the
cotton and woolen exhibits of the exposition and is a beautiful piece of workmanship. It is very heavy
and substantial and is as smooth a runner as it has ever felt to our lot to see. Standing on either end of cylinder heads are nickles which stand all
day long so smoothly does it run as not disturb
the position. Their other engines, of various
size and styles, are also exceedingly fine pieces of
workmanship and design. The North Carolina
millstone company's celebrated "Moore county
grist" mill exhibited by his company, grinding
fine table meal attract much attention by the
grain meal they turn out. This Moore county
superior mill stone has in a short time developed a wonderful reputation as stone suitable for corn meal
grinding and like many other new enterprises in
the south, we predict for it a brilliant future.

THE LOUISVILLE EXPOSITION.
A Fine Display of Steam Engines by the Taylor Manufacturing Company.
One of the largest exhibitors in steam engines at the Louisville exposition are the Taylor manufacturing company of Chambersburg, Pa. They have
turing engines, two saw mills and two Moore county
grist mills on exhibition.
Their 100 horse power oil engine drives all the
cotton and woolen exhibits of the exposition and is a beautiful piece of workmanship. It is very heavy
and substantial and is as smooth a runner as it has ever felt to our lot to see. Standing on either end of cylinder heads are nickles which stand all
day long so smoothly does it run as not disturb
the position. Their other engines, of various
size and styles, are also exceedingly fine pieces of
workmanship and design. The North Carolina
millstone company's celebrated "Moore county
grist" mill exhibited by his company, grinding
fine table meal attract much attention by the
grain meal they turn out. This Moore county
superior mill stone has in a short time developed a wonderful reputation as stone suitable for corn meal
grinding and like many other new enterprises in
the south, we predict for it a brilliant future.

THE LOUISVILLE EXPOSITION.
A Fine Display of Steam Engines by the Taylor Manufacturing Company.
One of the largest exhibitors in steam engines at the Louisville exposition are the Taylor manufacturing company of Chambersburg, Pa. They have
turing engines, two saw mills and two Moore county
grist mills on exhibition.
Their 100 horse power oil engine drives all the
cotton and woolen exhibits of the exposition and is a beautiful piece of workmanship. It is very heavy
and substantial and is as smooth a runner as it has ever felt to our lot to see. Standing on either end of cylinder heads are nickles which stand all
day long so smoothly does it run as not disturb
the position. Their other engines, of various
size and styles, are also exceedingly fine pieces of
workmanship and design. The North Carolina
millstone company's celebrated "Moore county
grist" mill exhibited by his company, grinding
fine table meal attract much attention by the
grain meal they turn out. This Moore county
superior mill stone has in a short time developed a wonderful reputation as stone suitable for corn meal
grinding and like many other new enterprises in
the south, we predict for it a brilliant future.

THE LOUISVILLE EXPOSITION.
A Fine Display of Steam Engines by the Taylor Manufacturing Company.
One of the largest exhibitors in steam engines at the Louisville exposition are the Taylor manufacturing company of Chambersburg, Pa. They have
turing engines, two saw mills and two Moore county
grist mills on exhibition.
Their 100 horse power oil engine drives all the
cotton and woolen exhibits of the exposition and is a beautiful piece of workmanship. It is very heavy
and substantial and is as smooth a runner as it has ever felt to our lot to see. Standing on either end of cylinder heads are nickles which stand all
day long so smoothly does it run as not disturb
the position. Their other engines, of various
size and styles, are also exceedingly fine pieces of
workmanship and design. The North Carolina
millstone company's celebrated "Moore county
grist" mill exhibited by his company, grinding
fine table meal attract much attention by the
grain meal they turn out. This Moore county
superior mill stone has in a short time developed a wonderful reputation as stone suitable for corn meal
grinding and like many other new enterprises in
the south, we predict for it a brilliant future.

THE LOUISVILLE EXPOSITION.
A Fine Display of Steam Engines by the Taylor Manufacturing Company.
One of the largest exhibitors in steam engines at the Louisville exposition are the Taylor manufacturing company of Chambersburg, Pa. They have
turing engines, two saw mills and two Moore county
grist mills on exhibition.
Their 100 horse power oil engine drives all the
cotton and woolen exhibits of the exposition and is a beautiful piece of workmanship. It is very heavy
and substantial and is as smooth a runner as it has ever felt to our lot to see. Standing on either end of cylinder heads are nickles which stand all
day long so smoothly does it run as not disturb
the position. Their other engines, of various
size and styles, are also exceedingly fine pieces of
workmanship and design. The North Carolina
millstone company's celebrated "Moore county
grist" mill exhibited by his company, grinding
fine table meal attract much attention by the
grain meal they turn out. This Moore county
superior mill stone has in a short time developed a wonderful reputation as stone suitable for corn meal
grinding and like many other new enterprises in
the south, we predict for it a brilliant future.

THE LOUISVILLE EXPOSITION.
A Fine Display of Steam Engines by the Taylor Manufacturing Company.
One of the largest exhibitors in steam engines at the Louisville exposition are the Taylor manufacturing company of Chambersburg, Pa. They have
turing engines, two saw mills and two Moore county
grist mills on exhibition.
Their 100 horse power oil engine drives all the
cotton and woolen exhibits of the exposition and is a beautiful piece of workmanship. It is very heavy
and substantial and is as smooth a runner as it has ever felt to our lot to see. Standing on either end of cylinder heads are nickles which stand all
day long so smoothly does it run as not disturb
the position. Their other engines, of various
size and styles, are also exceedingly fine pieces of
workmanship and design. The North Carolina
millstone company's celebrated "Moore county
grist" mill exhibited by his company, grinding
fine table meal attract much attention by the
grain meal they turn out. This Moore county
superior mill stone has in a short time developed a wonderful reputation as stone suitable for corn meal
grinding and like many other new enterprises in
the south, we predict for it a brilliant future.

THE LOUISVILLE EXPOSITION.
A Fine Display of Steam Engines by the Taylor Manufacturing Company.
One of the largest exhibitors in steam engines at the Louisville exposition are the Taylor manufacturing company of Chambersburg, Pa. They have
turing engines, two saw mills and two Moore county
grist mills on exhibition.
Their 100 horse power oil engine drives all the
cotton and woolen exhibits of the exposition and is a beautiful piece of workmanship. It is very heavy
and substantial and is as smooth a runner as it has ever felt to our lot to see. Standing on either end of cylinder heads are nickles which stand all
day long so smoothly does it run as not disturb
the position. Their other engines, of various
size and styles, are also exceedingly fine pieces of
workmanship and design. The North Carolina
millstone company's celebrated "Moore county
grist" mill exhibited by his company, grinding
fine table meal attract much attention by the
grain meal they turn out. This Moore county
superior mill stone has in a short time developed a wonderful reputation as stone suitable for corn meal
grinding and like many other new enterprises in
the south, we predict for it a brilliant future.

THE LOUISVILLE EXPOSITION.
A Fine Display of Steam Engines by the Taylor Manufacturing Company.
One of the largest exhibitors in steam engines at the Louisville exposition are the Taylor manufacturing company of Chambersburg, Pa. They have
turing engines, two saw mills and two Moore county
grist mills on exhibition.
Their 100 horse power oil engine drives all the
cotton and woolen exhibits of the exposition and is a beautiful piece of workmanship. It is very heavy
and substantial and is as smooth a runner as it has ever felt to our lot to see. Standing on either end of cylinder heads are nickles which stand all
day long so smoothly does it run as not disturb
the position. Their other engines, of various
size and styles, are also exceedingly fine pieces of
workmanship and design. The North Carolina millstone company's celebrated